Welcome!

Welcome to the New York College of Health Professions Continuing Education program of workshops. It is our goal to provide classes, seminars and workshops on a variety of topics for licensed health care professionals, current students and the general public with interest in wellness, health and holistic topics. CE credits are available for many of the classes.

Continuing Education is an important part of any health care professional’s career, not only to expand our minds, but to broaden our skills and increase the quality of care to our patients. Community classes provide an opportunity for us to share with the public interesting topics applicable in your daily life and hopefully to stir your passion for learning.

Please join us at New York College in the celebration of education. For further information on anything contained in this brochure visit our website www.nycollege.edu/continuing_education or call 1-800-922-7337 x223.

Vision
New York College is committed to the maintenance and enhancement of health – physical, psychological, spiritual and institutional. In the service of that commitment, the College seeks affiliations with other institutions and explores a wide variety of approaches to enhancing wellness and quality of life.

Mission Statement
New York College is committed to offering quality programs in health, science and the arts. The mission has three main components:

Education: To provide students with the knowledge and skills to enable them to become expert practitioners in their fields. To provide the knowledge and skills to enhance the health, wellness and quality of life in the larger community, and to develop educational materials to achieve that same purpose.

Service: To provide clinical and pharmacological services to the community as a complement to the programs of professional education. To provide services and products to the community that complement the programs offered by the College.

Research: To develop and implement with outside parties new product development in health care, wellness and quality of life products.

Vacuum Cupping for Massage Therapists with Robin Choi, BPS/MS Oriental Medicine, L.Ac.

Cupping therapy has been used for thousands of years and employs the use of cups to create a negative pressure over the local area to promote blood flow and healing. Use of this negative pressure can enable deeper work into the tissue without pain or discomfort. The combination of cupping with massage can help detoxify the muscle tissues and organs; move stagnant energy; increase the flow of blood and oxygen to muscles and tissues; reduce inflammation and edema. After completing this workshop you will be able to implement this therapy into your practice in a safe and effective manner.

The workshop will include:
* Background and history of cupping
* Understand the benefits of cupping therapy
* Treatment of common disorders
* Hands-on practice with cupping techniques
* Safety and precautions/contraindications

Please bring flat sheet, face rest, bolster and gown or loose fitting clothing

Presenter- Robin Choi is a NY State Licensed Acupuncturist. He received his formal training at the NY College of Health Professions and graduated with a Masters in Oriental Medicine. He is an adjunct member of the faculty at New York College.

Hot Stone Massage
with Amy Kolasky, LMT

Hot stone massage incorporates the use of smooth, heated stones used as an extension of the therapists’ own hands or by placing them on the body during massage. The heat is deeply relaxing and will help warm up tight muscles allowing the therapist to work into the deeper muscle layers while reducing wear and tear on their hands. In this one day workshop, you will learn how to provide a safe and effective full-body hot stone massage through a combination of lecture, demonstration, and hands-on practice. Knowledge of this specialty treatment is a must for working in a spa or wellness center environment and will allow therapists to maximize earning potential in their private practice.

Please bring a set of stones (min. of 10), electric roaster or skillet, 2 small white or light colored towels (dish towel size), 1 medium bath towel, wooden slatted spoon, small bowl, 2 sheets (at least one flat), bolster, face cradle and massage oil or gel to class.

Physical Arts

Classes open to the Everyone

Physical Arts play an essential and vital role in the education of our holistic health practitioners here at New York College, improving health and sensitivity to their own bodies, as well as the bodies of their patients. The Continuing Education Program allows us to share that experience with our patients and the members of our local community. Continuing Education students practice alongside our practitioners and students and reap the benefits of ancient forms of physical and mental well-being. Classes run in 15-week sessions, three times a year, beginning in January, May and late August. Minimum age 18 years. A Physical Arts Waiver/Release form must be completed with a registration form.

Introduction to the Physical Arts – PA 300

This basic course is designed to give students a general overview of the three (3) physical art forms taught at New York College. Classes consist of 5 weeks of study in each form beginning with Qi Gong, then moving onto T’ai Chi Chuan and ending with Yoga. Classes are two hours long. Beginners are welcome. Various instructors.

- Mondays.............3:30pm
- Thursdays..........8:30am & 6:00pm
- Saturdays...........9:00am

Hatha Yoga

Yoga is a system of physical development. In this class you will be introduced to the various asanas (postures) based on the integration of Taoist principles of relaxed action and traditional Yoga postures. The asanas focus on balancing the energy system through spinal alignment and proper breathing. The practice of Yoga can help to harmonize and balance the body on many levels that are essential for good health and well-being. It develops strength and flexibility of body, and calmness of mind; connects mind and body through the breath. Add to your expertise by completing Yoga I, II, III, & IV and obtaining an Assistant Yoga Instructor Certificate. Classes are two hours long.

Hatha Yoga I – PA 311
- Mondays.............2:30pm
- Tuesdays.............6:00 & 8:30pm
- Saturdays...........9:00am

Holistic Nursing Continuing Education Program

The Holistic Nursing Continuing Education Program with Asian Bodywork is designed as a comprehensive study program for Registered Nurses who seek education in holistic health care with an emphasis on Traditional Chinese Medicine. This program is designed to lead to the development of a holistic nurse, a health care practitioner who is not only effective in the health process of patients, but also who has integrated the principles into his/her own life. The program includes a supervised, clinical experience conducted on-site at the Academic Health Care Teaching Clinics or at one of the College’s affiliated hospitals. With the knowledge and skills that the Registered Nurse learns in this program, he/she can add to their present nursing practice or develop an expanded role as an autonomous professional in the health care delivery system. The Holistic Nursing Program provides 412.5 continuing education contact hours as New York College is an approved provider of continuing education by the New York State Nurses Association. Graduates will also be eligible to sit for the NCCAOM National Exam for Diplomate in Asian Bodywork and may be eligible to sit for the AHNCC (American Holistic Nurses’ Certification Corporation) exam if they meet other degree and employment criteria. Nurses who graduate from the New York College Holistic Nursing program and then enroll in any of the College’s matriculating degree programs may have between 6-24 credits waived.

New York College of Health Professions is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the Alabama State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation. Provider Number 5-145

Curriculum

Holistic Nursing is based on the idea that human beings are energy fields in open communication with the energy of the environment. Holistic Nursing aims to restore the integrity of the human being by assessing and treating imbalance in the energy field. Asian Bodywork, a specialized form of energetic and somatic manipulation is the most comprehensive bodywork modality used to accomplish this goal.

General Information

New York College’s Holistic Nursing is a 412.5 continuing education curriculum. It includes supervised, clinical internship conducted on-site at the College’s Academic Health Care Teaching Clinics. Graduates of the Holistic Nursing Program receive a Certificate of Completion in Holistic Nursing. Graduates of the Holistic Nursing program are eligible to take the NCCAOM exam for National Certification in Asian Bodywork. On successful completion of the NCCAOM Exam, the candidate is granted the title of Diplomate of Asian Bodywork. The program is offered one day per week and is four trimesters in length, or 16 months (a trimester is 15 weeks). The weekend program is one weekend per month for 24 months. Graduates of the Holistic Nursing program who enroll in New York College Massage Therapy degree program may have up to 24 credits waived. Graduates of the Holistic Nursing program who enroll in the New York College Graduate School of Oriental Medicine may have 6-8 credits waived directly from the Holistic Nursing program as well as additional credits from their academic nursing programs. Registered Nurses in New York State, along with some other health care professionals, are exempt from the Massage Therapy Law requiring a license to touch. Registered Nurses may perform massage and bodywork under the scope of the Nursing Practice Act in New York State.

New York College of Health Professions in Luo Yang, China

New York College owns the Luo Yang Medical Center in the People's Republic of China. This 35-acre medical facility features modern accommodations and excellent food in a park-like setting in the city of Luo Yang, once the ancient capital of China. It is surrounded by many historic sites including the Shaolin Temple where Kung Fu originated. New York College students and faculty (with family members) can visit China by participating in the College’s two week cultural immersion program. Beginning in Beijing with tours of the Forbidden City and the Great Wall, then traveling to Luo Yang, students have the opportunity to go to hospitals, attend lectures and see demonstrations of Traditional Chinese Medicine and martial arts techniques. They learn about the culture and philosophy of Traditional Chinese Medicine that is the backbone of their studies in Massage Therapy, Acupuncture and Chinese Herbology here at New York College in Syosset. Continuing Education classes for credit may be available.
